A FAMOUS ORDER.

Historical Data Concerning the Brothers of St. John of Jerusalem.

In the eleventh century Palestine was the scene of unwonted animation; the Crusades were commencing, and the spring of 1096 six million persons were said to be in movement toward Palestine. This must, however, be a monstrous exaggeration. Crusade madness seized upon many who seemed likely to fall victims to it, and rich and poor, young and old, feeble and strong, were hurled into the perilous way to the Holy Land, to press the soil once trodden by their Saviour's feet, and to rest their eyes on the saviors amid which He lived and died.

At the time of the Crusades, the Holy Land was a desolate and barren land, and the only inhabitants were a few scattered villages, and a few straggling towns. The Crusaders were only pilgrims, and the only purpose of their journey was to visit the Holy Land, and to see the places where Christ had lived and died.
